

Privacy Statement for the Axis Journal of Agriculture & Biological Sciences (AJABS)

At the Axis Journal of Agriculture & Biological Sciences (AJABS), operated by AXIS EXPLORATION AND ACADEMICS (PRIVATE) LIMITED, we place the highest priority on the privacy and security of our authors, reviewers, editors, and readers. This statement details our commitment to protecting the personal information entrusted to us through our journal management system and website.

Use of Personal Information

The personal information collected by AJABS, including names, email addresses, institutional affiliations, and academic expertise, is used exclusively for the operational purposes of the journal. These purposes include facilitating the double-blind peer-review process, editorial correspondence, disseminating published content, distributing notifications about new issues, and informing users about relevant journal news and policies.

Confidentiality

We guarantee that personal information will not be sold, shared, or disclosed to any third party for commercial or marketing purposes without the explicit consent of the individual, except as required by law. Access to personal data is strictly restricted to the journal's editorial team and, where necessary, to individuals directly involved in the publication workflow (e.g., editors and reviewers) who require the information to perform their defined tasks.

Data Security

AJABS implements robust technical and organizational security measures to protect against unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure, or destruction of personal information. Our online submission and publishing systems are maintained with up-to-date security protocols to ensure the integrity and confidentiality of the data we hold.

Access and Control

Individuals have the right to access, review, update, or correct the personal information AJABS holds about them. Requests for access, verification, or amendments to personal data can be made by contacting the AJABS editorial office directly through our official website.

Retention of Personal Information

Personal information is retained only for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, including the maintenance of the academic record, or as required by law. We conduct regular reviews of our data retention policies to ensure ongoing compliance with legal obligations and established best practices in scholarly publishing.

Updates to Privacy Statement

This Privacy Statement may be updated periodically to reflect changes in our operational procedures, technological developments, or legal requirements. We encourage all users to review this statement regularly to stay informed about how we are protecting their information.

Contact Information

For any questions, concerns, or requests regarding this Privacy Statement or our data handling practices, please contact the AJABS editorial office via the contact information provided on our website. We are committed to addressing and resolving any privacy-related issues promptly and transparently.

By using the AJABS website and submission system, you acknowledge that you have read and agree to the terms outlined in this Privacy Statement.
